

Time is come for formation of the national Iraqi government and enough for the delay

Statement of the non-violence group on the fourth non-violence week 1st-7th of October 2010

The preparation escalated for the non-violence group and their friends for those whom believe on non-violence way as a mean for change in order to complete the fourth Iraqi non-violence week, the Iraqi non-violence people waiting for this event whenever they reach October. Non-violence group chose a political topic for this week it is the main concern for all Iraqis the subject is formation of the new Iraqi government.

Non-violence group as known by its neutrality join to all the Iraqi Civil Society institutions and individuals voices, Time is come for formation of the Iraqi national government and enough for the delay, it is regrettable we notice competition toward prime minister position, shorthand all Iraqis hopes and aspirations for democratic political project, not only that but the race took place outside legal and constitutional framework representative by the dome of the parliament , and the great concern is encroach our geographical border and open the door wide for intervention from regional and international countries.

We are all know that there is a need for discussion and dialogue but we are all surprised the they insist and put it outside the right legitimate framework, and put entire political process at risk, the months ago showed the fact that the seriousness of the situation of what happened and happening the implication of security is a reflection of the political differences is the Iraqi people from north to south pay the cost, and it cannot be limited by farther militarization or more arm purchase but it is the part key for the problem.

That is why we request national unified stance and return the discussion to its proper perspective, and give the elected member in the current parliament right to directly vote to choose the three presidencies without any pressure, for that we call for the direct and secret vote mechanism. The respect for the principle of democratic action, dialogue and differences in the dome of parliament it is only way to gain the trust for the Iraqi public.

The non-violence group also reminds of the necessary to respect the Iraqis rights for non-violence struggle for the expression of their opinion and their demands, which is the suitable way to build secure and democratic Iraqi, and once again call upon all Iraqis to relay on the non-violence replacement for change and expression.

Iraqi non-violence group
30th of September 2010